Following that message (which would have been published yesterday if there had been any issue of the paper), Dr A. W. Sinclair, Residency Surgeon, Selangor, telegraphs from Kuala in the State since my return from Europe last November; the last isolated case known occurred in September. It will be observed that our Pahang correspondent's telegram does not aver that there is smallpox in Selangor, and that the Selangor Surgeon's averment of freedom from smallpox refers only to Salangor, and not to Raub, which is in Pahang. As we have absolute confidence in our Ulu Pahang there is small-pox at Raub.

There will be general regret to hear that nows was received on Saturday by wire of the death in London of Mr John George Dunn, the disease that finally carried him sident of Shaughai, having been in Mrssrs. Lindsay & Co.'s some thirty years ago, and subsequently a partner in what is now Mesers Rold, Evans & Co. He was afterwards connected with Mr John Pender, who sent him out to China to look after the interests of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company. A Roman Catholic, he took much interest in the affairs of the missions of that church in Chius. He was a warm friend and a dangerous enemy, and one of the most charming companious it was possible to meet. His vigorous writing will be missed on the Chinese Times. He was very ill when ho left here, but got much better on the way home, and it was hoped that he would make a complete recovery. THE Chinese Times of the 11th writes as follows on the subject of the interview that some of the foreign consuls here had with Chang hib-tung; it is rather hard to blame Stanghai collectively for the act of a fow individuals :- Shanghai does most things well, but it has never known exactly shareholders in this Company was held tohow to treat a high Chinese official. When Li Hung-chang was in the settlement some seven years ago, the foreigners missed a rare opportunity for establishing a precedent for future relations between themselves and the Chinese authorities : and now they have gone to a quite needless extreme in courting the Viceroy Chang Chili-tung. For thrusting themselves upon that conceited and truculent foreign-hater the Consuls deserved all they got in the contumely with which they were received; and it is entisfactory, to see one Consul who knew how to maintain his dignity as the representative of a great country, and held aloof from the ko-tou. A MEETING of tradespeople and gold miners was held at Dolgelly on Dec. 21st to congratulate Mr. Pritchard Morgan, M.P. on his return to Dolgelly, after his long and serious illness. Mr. Morgan said that he was glad to inform them that the gold mines of North Wales had from the opening been one continued success. Since the formation of the company, in June of last year, they had crushed 7,325 tons of quartz, yielding 7,893 oz. 9 dwt. gold, or an average yield of 1 oz. 1 dwt. 13 grains of gold per ton. This had resulted in a profit to the shareholders of £10,510, being at the rate of 5 per cent during the first year. This profit had been fully maintained during the half year ending the 3 st December, as a dividend of 5 per cent. would be declared. They were now working forty head of stamps with a crushing power. of 100 tons, and about 200 men were employed at the mines. The directors had decided to enlarge the mines. They had now secured the whole of the goldbearing reofs lying between the two mountain streams at Gwynfydd, by which the present lease of twenty-eight and a half years of 137 acres of land would be extended for thirtyfive years of nearly 6:0 acres. He felt perfectly satisfied of the permanency of the industry. If the quartz in the future averaged one-half of what it had done in the past, there would be a profit of £30,000 per annum. They would thus see that, with the increased capital, new machinery, and more men, they had every reason to believe there was a bright future for goldmining in Wales.

The Chairman-The report has been in your hands for some time, and I suppose, in accordance with the general practice in the Colony, it may be taken as read. I have no doubt you will gather from it that the business of the Company has been good -I may say very good. But there is an unfortunate drawback - the continued rise in the price of coal, which, as you will see. is a very serious item in our accounts ; and I regret to inform you that during the next six months, unless we have an early drop in the price of coal, the addition to the Company's expenses will amount to about $24,000 for the year. This, gentlemen. a very serious matter, but we will just live in the hope that coal, especially when these procurable at a much more moderate price than it is at the present moment Your directors have thought it advisable to put nothing to the Reserve Fund. That fund, as you are aware, is now a very considerable amount, and they have therefore thought it better in the position of the Company to carry over all the balance. As you are aware there is a considerable amount of repairs that will have to be made in the current half year. With regard to the new capital I am happy to inform you, gentlemen, that it was all paid up, and there were no dissentients of any kind at the meeting. nor was any dissont shown afterwards in not paying the call (Applause.) The money has all been collected and, as you are in formed by the report, has been invested invested, I am happy to say, on very favourab'e terms. It is perhaps unfortunate that so far the West River has not been opened. We have been looking and waiting for this being done, but we all know the dilatoriness of the Chinese Government. COMPANY, LIMITED.

A meeting of this Company was held this afternoon. Mr F. d' A. Gomes, in the absence of Hon. P. Ryrie, presided, and there were also present : Messra Ho Tang and F. Henderson, directors : Mr A. Shelton Hooper, secretary; and Messre E. C. Ray, J. F. C. da Roza, D. McCulloch, H. J. Holmes and C. A. Ozorio. The Chairman moved the adoption of the

I am also glad to see that arrangements have been entered The ordinary half-yearly meeting of the into for developing the company's property. Mr Holmes-I should like to ask a question with regard to the item, calls unpartl. It would be more satisfactory if the shareholders, in fuct-all concerned, understood exactly how that item stood; as it appears in the report it looks as if there was a large debit balance, where is I think the facts will explain that the matter can within a few days be entirely clear. od off. If I am right I may remark that these calls unpaid represent one lot of land sold to the Company. The question of the issue of a Crown lesse has been in aboyance for some time. There is now an official letter from the Government stating that the Crown lease has been granted. That will clear off the whole of that item, calls unpaid, and pass over to the Company the land as originally intended for the scrip so issued. The only other remark is with regard to the shares unafforted. We all know that at the time of the a'lotment' there was almost a rush for these shares, and perhaps some explanation might be given how these shares were not taken up. It may be that on account of certain losses in the Colony, there may have been some difficulty in taking them up.

Mr Shelton Hooper, at the request of the Chairman, 'explained that at the time the Land-Investment Company took over the agency, there was found among the new mines so near are opened, will be paper a list of people with a certain number of shares opposite their name. Before the Land Investment Company took over the agency the directors had made allotments in accordance with their list, but certain parties repudiated their allotments saying that they had never applied for shares. This explained the whole of the unaliotted shares except five which be-

DR CANTLIE ON FOOD IN THE · TROPICS.

At the meeting of the Hongkong Literary Society yesterday evening, Dr Chalmers presiding, a lecture under the above title was delivered by Dr Cantlie.

BUTCHER MEAT. Many people imagine (said the doctor) that flesh and muscle are two different things, the fact nevertheless being that they are the same. But there is flesh and flesh. There is a great difference between the young juicy tender flesh of a stall-fed ox and the tough hard muscle of an animal that has been used to drag the plough for a number of years and then kitled. The latter is the kind of meat we get here, an it is very bad. An animal whose flesh has become bardened by work may certainly be fattened for killing; but what is the difference between its flesh and that of a stall-fed ox ? The Edifference is this-in the one case you have the properly mixed with the flesh, while in the other the fat merely lies on the top of the fleah. A stall-fed ox of course may have fat on the surface, but it will also be mixed with the flesh, which will not be the case with the other animal.

GOOD AND BAD MEAT.

Why is the one kind good and the other had?- for the firsh of the improperly- cassantly maintain an Army and Navy of fed ox is bad as compared with the other. I the highest efficiency. The one kind is nourishing and the other is not. It is the same in India, and hence they want all sorts of curries and condiments to stimulate the flagging digestive powers. The climate is responsible for this craving for something appetising. Therefore we have

There is no class of people who overdose themselves more with meat than men at sea. Take the case of an engineer. The man comes and complains that he is losing flesh, he has lost 24 lbs. within the las four months: He takes meat to every meal and eats three or four pounds of it per day. What is the matter with him ! Simply an overdose of moat. Two or three years ago yesterday, said he rejoiced that Englishdigest nothing. Yes, and it would be absolutely impossi ble for Europeans to live in many parts of Asia but for fowls. But after all they are not particularly good. A chicken has to go about and find its livelihood, and consequently its muscles become tough and its flesh is not very nourishing.

WAST OF VARIETY We find a want of variety in frod here and, added to that, a want of variety in cooking cwing to the away of 'olo custom among our cooks. The meat is always roasted in the same fashion and that fashion is what allows the drippings to be taken away for the benefit of somebody else; and what we get instead is perhaps some kind of Chiness oil or pork fat. The exterior of our beautiful Town Hall was completed quite a while ago, and the interior arrangements are rapidly approaching a finish. From some directions its appearance is certainly very imposing, though the effect is not entirely satisfactory. The view of the surrounding country from the top is extensive and line. The contention, of those who both before and since its erection, expressed the opinion that the great need of the settlement is principal places of Europe. water works and not a Hall, for all the uses of which accommodations were not wanting, receives almost weekly emphasis in our local paper, in its references to the unbealthy conditions of our water supply. movement now on fout gives special emphasis to those views, viz. a proposition, having its origin within the Municipal Council, to bring clear, pure water from Tung Shan by rail, and supply subscribers at the rate of Tls. 2 per 100 gallons. What guarantee can be given of its purity is not intimated. The need of the settlement was not unknown, nor unappreciated by most of the residents, and this movement adds force to the criticism, that had the health of the settlement, and the greatest good to the greatest number been the predominant desire in the use of the money, we would now, or as soon as they could have been completed, have water works.

SIAN PACIFIC SQUADRON.

San Francisco. - Shanghai Mercury.

The Coylon Times says :- Amidst a salute of cannon from ship and shore, the Admiral Koniloff, one of the largest Russian menof-war that have put in here, entered Colombo harbour this morning (15th Jan. on her way East, where she is to act as flagship of the Russian squadron in the Pacific. She is commanded by Captain Alexejeff, and the Vice Admiral who will have charge of the Squadron, Vice-Admiral Nazimoff, on board. The ship is a fine specimen of a war vessel. She was built last year France, and went to Cronstadt, where she was fitted out with armaments. Her tonnage is 5,500. Her longth is 365 feet over all, and her beam is 48 feet, while her extreme draft is 24% feet. It is in her engines that her superiority lies. She has two engines, each of 3,500 horse power, and she is far and away the fastest ship in the Russian Navy, even of the Admiral class. She is fully armed; too, carrying fourteen 6-in. guns, ten 37 milimetre Hotchkiss guns, sir quick-firing Hotchkiss guns, torpedos, with six torpedo tubes, and two field guns. Four of the machine guns are mounted on platforms fixed on the foremast and mainmast. The ship has a conning tower for the torpedo work, and she carries a couple of torpedo boats, besides eight other boats of various sizes. Her ship's Company includes 24 officers (not counting the Vice Admiral, the Commander and the Flag Lieutenant) and about 416 crew. She left Cronstadt five months ago, and went to France, after which she spent a time in the Mediterranean sea, and was present at the Royal Wedding festivities in Greece. She goes now to Japan, and when there will call up the other ten ships now forming the squadron, and issue orders. She is to be on the Pacific station about two and a half years. draw special attention to the ship as an instance of the interest Russia takes in her Pacific squadron. She is always improving it, and making it more 'fit,' yet it is only recently that England has manifested any such spirit, and our vessels in the Pacific have been obsolete-patterned boats that could scarcely be expected to cope with ships like the one that has touched Colombo to-day, The Admiral Koniloff will remain here about ten days. Another Russian man-of-war, we learn, is expected here in about a fortnight.
